- Netflix Clone (React, Firebase) A recreation of Netflix's main page, allowing users to browse popular movies by genre and watch their trailers. Uses the TMDB API. Built in React and deployed using Firebase Hosting.
- Social Media Web App (React, Redux, Node.js, MongoDB) - Users can login, register, create and delete posts, as well as like and comment on these posts and receive notifications based on these actions. The frontend is styled using responsive CSS/SASS.
- Workout Tracker Mobile App (React Native, Redux, Firebase) - This app guides the user through a workout program designed to build strength and muscle and keeps track of their workouts and progress over time. It has a simple and intuitive user interface, uses Google Sign-In for quick and easy authentication and stores the users data online using Cloud Firestore.
- Laravel Photo Gallery (PHP Laravel, Amazon Web Services, Bootstrap) - Users can view the gallery as well as upload and delete photos with a title and description. Uses a MySQL database hosted on Amazon RDS and an S3 bucket to store uploaded images.
- The Backyard Larder website (WordPress, PHP, HTML/CSS) - I created this website for my parents online gardening business. It includes an online store, blog, and a custom theme and integrates with a MailChimp email marketing list which has grown to over 800 members and now provides them a full-time income.

Experience

- Freelance Web Developer (2016 - 2017) - As a freelancer I worked mostly with WordPress, creating and modifying websites for my online clients through the freelancing platform Fiverr. I always made sure to maintain good communication, deliver on time and above all perform quality work. During this time I maintained a perfect 5 star rating on the site and received, among others, these reviews:
  - "Ewan was articulate, friendly and provided excellent service. He worked incredibly fast to deliver my project (ninja fast actually!). I'm extremely happy and pleased with his work. I'm also happy to hire Ewan again."
  - "Professional and fast! Really enjoyed working with this seller."
  - "Excellent experience, would do this again for sure. Thank you!"
- Professional Gamer and Content Creator (2017 - 2019)

As a competitive player in the online multiplayer game PlayerUnknown's Battlegrounds (PUBG), I built an online audience by creating content on the video live streaming platform Twitch.tv where people would watch me play. I achieved Rank 1 on the European leaderboards a number of times before forming a team with 3 other players and signing with the North American esports organisation Digital Chaos, under which we competed at IEM Oakland 2017 (peak viewership 90,000) and placed 5th overall, being the only team to win two out of the eight games played.

Education

- Studied Computer Science at Bangor University.
- Triple Distinction, BTEC Extended Diploma in Information Technology at East Riding College, Bridlington.
- Achieved A, B, and C in English, Maths and Psychology GCSEs respectively.
